Who Are We?

EL Oils are an independent, family run oil distributor offering tailored recommendations to each of our customers.

We are the sister company of Halso UK Fuels, who have been supplying the nation with high quality fuel since 1967.

EL Oils was launched as a response to Halso customer demand – many of our fuel customers also had a requirement for lubricants, and wished their existing lubricants supplier offered the same level of service and value that they received from Halso.

We are proud to be an authorised Morris Lubricants distributor, along with being able to provide other brands including own label solutions.
